

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS SUPPORTING SCHOOLS TO DELIVER EFFECTIVE SEXUALITY AND RELATIONSHIPS EDUCATION

Term 2, 2017 Events

Wednesday 17th May | 4-6pm | Curtin University | $10

Showcase: New sexuality and relationships resources

This event is suitable for anyone who delivers sexuality and relationships education within schools. Presenters will showcase some newly-released sexuality and relationships education resources, suitable for use with students in years 7-10.

The session will also address how educators make decisions regarding what resources to use in the classroom. We encourage you to consider what resources you currently use and to bring any useful examples along with you to this event.

Wednesday 21st June | 4-5:30pm | Online | $10

Traffic Lights®—An overview

Knowing how to identify and respond to sexual behaviours in children and young people, helps adults to support the development of healthy sexuality and protect young people from harm or abuse. Sexual behaviours are not just about sex. They include any talk, touch, questions, conversations and interests which relate to sexuality and relationships. Traffic Lights® is a framework to identify, understand and respond to sexual behaviours in young people.

This 90-minute webinar presentation will provide an introduction to the Traffic Lights® framework and will work through scenarios to assist you to understand and respond to the sexual behaviours of children and young people. This session is suitable for anyone who works with young people and will be facilitated online by presenters from True Relationships & Reproductive Health.

RSVP: Register online now or visit www.sreteacherproject.eventbrite.com.au